living on a farm has lots of ups and downs but the thing I like about living on a farm the most is that there is something to do every second. You never get bored. My favorite thing to do on the farm is going out with Dad or going hunting why I like these things so much is because when I go out with Dad as soon as the breeze hits my face my mind goes blank and all I will think of is what paddock we will shift next and why I like hunting is because it is good for my fitness and I love to get dirty. Dad calls me a worm because I will just randomly make a mud pie and Dad will tell me "you know that is half poo" and I will say "I don't care."
